RE: 64% of the people clearly want to protect 100% of the taxpayers

Thanks to our efforts working together (and a huge 2nd mortgage on my home), we protected all the taxpayers in Washington.

It was just one year ago that voters approved our initiative -- I-1053 -- with 64% of the vote, sending a clear no-new-taxes message. On the same ballot, there was also a 64% rejection of a state income tax. And a KING 5 poll just last month showed 64% public opposition to raising taxes to balance the Democrats' state budget deficit (SEE QUESTION 1: <http://www.surveyusa.com/client/PollReport.aspx?g=86b585e2-5a24-4f3c-b808-e4cfc6e879d5>).

So 64% of the people clearly want to protect 100% of the taxpayers from Olympia's insatiable appetite for higher taxes.

Thank goodness we did.

If not for the passage of Initiative 1053 and its tougher-to-raise-taxes policies, Gregoire and the Democrats would only be debating which taxes to unilaterally increase and by how much. Instead, thanks to I-1053, they are being forced to make tax increases an absolute last resort and only with voter approval. And best of all, they can only ask for as much as they think the voters are willing to OK at the ballot box. And it is obvious that that total that is many times less than what Gregoire and the Democrats would unilaterally take if not for I-1053.

36% of the people may not like I-1053 but most of us think its' protections are essential.
